FAMILIES & COMMUNITIES

Looking back on 2023, Society set an ambitious goal to strengthen our connections within the community. Through the DEIA Roundtable, we initiated discussions with the St. Louis Zoo leading to the exciting announcement of the first annual Zoo Day for visually impaired individuals, scheduled for September 2024.

We also broadened our peer groups by introducing the VIP Social Group which offers a variety of activities which both educate and enrich the lives of the membership. Our collaboration with a state senator and his chief of staff resulted in state appropriations that enabled us to purchase our first accessible van and begin plans for a remodeled Drews Low Vision Clinic.

This year paved the way for the expansion of the Sight Solutions Shop. We are thrilled to announce the addition of a dedicated lighting room, a private room for CCTV demonstrations, and a second low vision exam lane, effectively doubling our capacity to serve patients.

These accomplishments are a testament to the power of our connections, the dedication of our donors, friends and staff, and the unwavering support of our exceptional Board of Directors. Thank you for your contributions and support in fostering our growth!

ENHANCING COMMUNICATION

Lynette Melton thrills over the Seeing AI app

Enhancing communication through Assistive Technology. The ability to use any type of technology is a modern-day convenience for many. Something so small that fits in the palm of your hand can bring the entire world into view. But for those living with low vision or blindness, technology can be a huge challenge. Assistive Technology is one of the skills that can positively transform the life of a person who is visually impaired.

Lynette Melton could not read due to her vision. Assistive Technology training through St. Louis Society for the Blind and Visually Impaired changed her life immeasurably. She had not used an iPad before. Then she received one through a grant secured by SLSBVI. Lynette's world was transformed; our Assistive Technology Specialist trained Lynette on how to use the accessibility features on the device. She was thrilled to discover an app called Seeing AI. As Lynette so happily stated, "I can read and send email again! I can identify items again! Seeing AI is MY eyes!"

Our Assistive Technology Center has helped many individuals like Lynette by providing training on different software, hardware, applications, and other wearable and electronic devices. Technology can dramatically change the life of a person who is visually impaired, but it can also be exceptionally expensive.

To witness Lynette's pure joy of discovering assistive technology that allows her to read and communicate is what inspires us. There are many "Lynette's" in St. Louis and in our region, and the continued support and generosity of our donors in 2023 allows Society to continue to help them. Using technology is simple and convenient for almost all of us, but it can be life changing for people like Lynette.

"I can read and send email again! Seeing AI is MY eyes!"

EMPOWERING INDIVIDUALS

It's a heartwarming and common sight to see in our lobby at Society. Older clients, who are unable to drive due to vision loss, are transported to their appointment by loved ones - a spouse, a son or daughter, a grandchild, a nephew or niece, a sibling, or a close friend. Having a family support system can make all the difference in coping with a challenging vision loss.

Edward Kottmeier is no stranger to vision loss. Macular Degeneration invaded his eyes in his early 70s. He owned the Jefferson County Lumber Company and reading spreadsheets was a large part of running the business end. "Over the years, my eyesight declined significantly. Reading regular print was difficult." His daughter, Christy McCutcheon, then the Director of Development and Communications at Society, made an appointment for him to see the low vision doctor.

Mr. Kottmeier said, "The doctor and the OTs helped me better understand my vision loss and macular degeneration. While my regular eye doctors had done all they could to take care of my eyes medically, they could not help with my daily living like the Society."

Christy McCutcheon said, "Oh my goodness, I am so grateful for Society. They have been there for me and dad through the progression of his vision loss. I think one of the most important things that Society does for my dad is to listen. Each visit, the doctors and therapists listen, acknowledge dad's challenges and frustrations, and offer solutions where they can. It was one of the many reasons I was proud to work there and one of the many reasons why I trust them with my dad. It is the best help he can get anywhere in this region."

As happens so many times, adult children find themselves caught in that sandwich generation, where they start caring for an aging parent, while still caring for children at home. At Society, we are committed to providing the best possible care to our clients with vision loss, and we understand the importance of family support.

"You know, low vision issues are not going away," Christy said, "and our community needs the partnership of the Society to assist those with low vision to continue living full lives. Supporting the Society will help ensure the agency is around for another 112 years."

"I trust them with my dad."

ENRICHING THE PATH TO INDEPENDENCE

One day in May of 2013, Jim Freeman was finishing up another year of driving a school bus, when he noticed something unusual going on in his right eye, like a night shade was being pulled up. He loved driving a bus and he enjoyed the kids on his route. After seeing an eye specialist, he found he had a total retinal detachment with multiple breaks in that eye.

At the time, he was quite devastated. “I didn’t know how to adjust to life. My career as a bus driver was over. I had to readjust. But you have to remain upbeat and seek out help.” Which he did. The doctors at The Retina Institute and at Premiere Eye Associates referred him to St. Louis Society for the Blind and Visually Impaired. “I was so disappointed in what I couldn’t do anymore, which was just normal day-to-day stuff, from watching TV to walking down a hallway to finding items in a grocery store.”

At Society, Jim learned techniques and obtained the tools he needed to help him do those things again. “Society had what I needed to help me with day-to-day life. It was an adjustment, but I found out I could do this.”

When Jim took advantage of our Support Groups, he found he was not alone on his journey. He found others whom he could talk to. He listened to their stories as well and in turn they helped each other.

Jim may not be able to drive a bus anymore, but he is still helping people by working at Home Depot and and he enjoys it.

“I hope people realize how important it is to support Society, because someday, they just might be driving and find out they need them.”

“It was an adjustment, but I found out I could do this.”

2023 VISIONARY GALA

The 2023 Visionary Gala held on April 15th at the Donald Danforth Plant Science Center was a night to remember, filled with glamour, excitement, and a strong sense of community. Despite the inclement weather that threatened to dampen the evening, supporters of the St. Louis Society for the Blind and Visually Impaired showed up in force, demonstrating their unwavering commitment to the organization and its vital mission.

The festivities kicked off with a cocktail reception and silent auction, where attendees could bid on a wide range of items generously donated by local businesses and individuals. The atmosphere was lively, with the talented a cappella group Reverb from Washington University entertaining the crowd with their beautiful harmonies.

Jasmine Huda of Fox2 News emceed the event for the second year in a row. Following a sumptuous dinner, two awards were presented. Dr. James Bobrow and Dr. Humeyra Karacal presented the Leslie Dana Gold Medal Award to Dr. Russell Van Gelder, M.D., Ph.D. for his prolific work as a clinician-scientist in molecular diagnostics for infectious eye disease as well as in vision restoration technologies. The Leslie Dana Gold Medal, an internationally renowned honor, has been awarded by St. Louis Society for the Blind and Visually Impaired since 1925 to many of the world's most highly respected scholars and clinicians for commendable service in eyesight research, ophthalmology, vision sciences and related social services.

The Community Light Award was bestowed upon Mr. Kevin Hollinger for his many years of exceptional service as a blindness professional working in the Francis Howell School District as a Teacher of the Visually Impaired and as an Orientation and Mobility Specialist. Kevin also directs the Summer Orientation & Mobility and Adapted Living Resource (SOAR) program through the Lighthouse for the Blind-St. Louis. The Community Light Award is presented to an individual or group whose accomplishments have an immeasurable impact on the visually impaired and blind communities.

The event also paid tribute to the late Dr. Stephen Waltman. He and his wife, Gill Roper-Hall have been devout supporters and donors to Society for many years. Dr. Waltman will be remembered for his long service in ophthalmology, clever sense of humor and strong-held belief in people with vision loss receiving the necessary care to maintain their independence.

A video showcased the stories of clients from various counties in Missouri and Illinois and how the Society's outreach has positively impacted their lives. (Scan the QR code below to see the video.) They shared their stories of how Society's growth and outreach to these areas has helped them. As Brenda King of O'Fallon, MO said, "If there was no Society out there, where would we be?" Society Board of Directors Chair, Joe Brinker, invited the crowd to "Be a Visionary," resulting in additional funds raised to directly support Society's provision of services and continue to expand its outreach and provide rehabilitation services to clients in their homes and communities.

The evening concluded with live entertainment by the outstanding Janet Evra, an international jazz vocalist, bassist, and bandleader from England based in St. Louis. The Gala was a tremendous success, meeting the agency's goal to net a record-setting $100,000, a testament to the generosity and dedication of the Society's supporters.

A heartfelt thank you goes out to the Visionary Gala committee and committee chair, Elizabeth (Betsy) Kauffman, as well as the premier sponsor, Lighthouse for the Blind, and all the Gala sponsors who made the event possible. The 2023 Visionary Gala was truly a night of glamour, community, and positivity that will be remembered for years to come.

WIKE FOR SIGHT

Society hosted its second annual
Wike for Sight on September 29, 2023

WHAT IS WIKE?

Wike is a fun play on the words wine and hike.

This event featured wine tasting for adults and an outdoor walking experience in Brentwood Park at the new Brentwood Park and Pavilion located at 2924 Brazeau Avenue.

Kicking off the fun at our 2nd Annual Wike for Sight was Louie, the official mascot of the St. Louis Blues. Attendees enjoyed an eclectic selection of wines presented by certified sommelier, Mike Ward, plus a charcuterie, live entertainment by Clan Jameson and finished off the evening with ice cream sandwiches served up by Sugarwitch. It's a strange name, but with a sweet outcome.

Created to be fun for all ages, the Wike for Sight featured additional activities, a wine toss, silent auctions, a kids play area, snacks and soft drinks. It was a beautiful evening with a beautiful super moon in the sky and no one wanted to leave when 8:00 rolled around.

LEADERS WHO PURSUE EXCELLENCE

Joan Musbach says there are two reasons she chooses to give to St. Louis Society for the Blind and Visually Impaired: number one, it's personal. She does so in honor of her late husband Ken Musbach who was a client of Society, and it was something near and dear to his heart. Number two, it's altruistic. "There are people out there with vision issues who need help. Society has the resources and the tools to help those people like they helped Ken."

Ken had Glaucoma and found great comfort knowing Society was there. "Every time we came in the door, it felt like a community to him." Ken was a successful businessman and as his eyesight worsened, he found the tools he needed at Society to finish strong, using magnifiers and a CCTV screen.

"Ken wanted to give back to Society, so we got very involved in the fundraising. He LOVED the wine tasting events." Unfortunately, Ken passed away in 2018, but Joan, a retired schoolteacher, has kept the torch burning and continues to support Society with a quiet strength. She served on the 2023 Visionary Gala committee, participates in various agency activities, and has generously sponsored many Society events over the years.

It seems that altruistic spirit runs in the family. Ken and Joan's granddaughter, Lindsey Brillo, who was extremely close to her grandfather, makes an annual donation to Society on his birthday. Lindsey wrote: My Papa was truly one of a kind. His smile and eyes lit up the room. As his vision worsened, SLSBVI greatly helped ... by providing Papa with a CCTV to help enlarge fonts/pictures, he was able to enjoy seeing pictures of his great-granddaughter.... When Papa passed away, I knew that I wanted to honor him in a way that would also help pay it forward. Since Papa's passing in 2018, I have made an annual donation to the Society in his memory. It truly makes me happy to see the updates of all that Society does with their generous donations. It gives me great comfort in knowing others will benefit from all the services SLSBVI has to offer.

With a planned gift, you can help people served each year by Society for the Blind and Visually Impaired and obtain significant financial benefits for yourself. In making a planned gift, you have the added satisfaction of knowing people who are blind or visually impaired in the future will benefit from your generosity today.
To find out more about the Eilers' Guild, contact Megan Connelly, Director of Development at 314.968.9000.

BE A VISIONARY

For over 110 years St. Louis Society for the Blind and Visually Impaired has been providing comprehensive services to people living with vision loss. Without these services, individuals with vision loss may not receive the therapy and training they need to stay independent.

You have a chance to change the path forward. To become a visionary today, visit slsbvi.org and select "Engage" or contact Megan Connelly at 314-968-9000. Society is honored to recognize the generosity of our donors in new giving levels for 2022!
